

JENNIFER S. MATTHEWS, MBA

Ms. Matthews provides financial literacy services, training, and mentoring that helps people understand cash flow and better manage cash on hand. Her services also include affordable detailed, personalized wealth creation systems for her clients. Ms. Matthews has more than 8 years experience assisting clients with developing and adhering to spending plans, increasing and understanding credit scores, affordable homeownership, and achieving financial goals. She develops and conducts workshops, tele-seminars, and is a motivational speaker.

Ms. Matthews developed the Debt Stress Solutions workshop and home study course, which helps people alleviate stress that is induced by debt, including foreclosure. She released an ebook entitled 12 Ways To Put Money In Your Pocket Every Month Without A Part-time Job. The ebook is available online at www.CreatingFinancialLiteracy.com. She has a home study course entitled Goal For It! The Real Secret For Getting Any And Everything You Want In Business And In Life, which helps readers properly set goals and overcome distractions that may hinder accomplishing goals. Goal For It! is available at www.GoalSuccessSecrets.com.

Ms. Matthews earned a BA in Labor Studies from Rutgers University, an MA in Professional Communication from LaSalle University, and an MBA from The Johns Hopkins University. She holds Certificates of Professional Recognition in Homebuyer Education Training and Beginning to Intermediate Foreclosure Prevention, both from NeighborWorks America.

Recently, Ms. Matthews was one of only 100 people invited to participate in the White House Office of Faith Based and Community Initiatives Compass in Action Roundtable on Financial Literacy. She is the former Maryland/DC State Coordinator for The Delta Challenge Homebuyer Initiative of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. and chairs the Economic Development Committee for her local chapter. She is active in several other organizations. She is also a regular guest expert on WUSA TV9's Mind Over Money consumer show in Washington, DC (a CBS affiliate station) and has been quoted in US News & World Report. She has been interviewed by Foreclosure Mass Monthly newsletter and Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine.

To schedule Ms. Matthews to speak for your company, church, or organization, contact her at:

Jennifer Matthews, MBA
Creating Financial Literacy, LLC
866.732.4270
info@CreatingFinancialLiteracy.com
www.CreatingFinancialLiteracy.com